

U.S. DELAYS TITO DECISION

Official Report On Shooting Down Five Fliers Awaited

Tito May Face Complaint In U. N. Council

Possibility Of American Arraignment Of Yugoslavians Before U. N. Seen

FORMAL ACTION BEING DELAYED

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(INS)—American arraignment of Yugoslavians before the bar of the United Nations Security Council remained a good possibility today.

Conceded death of all five airmen by burning in the second U. S. transport plane shot down over Yugoslavian territory and their subsequent burial in a common grave was regarded by some American spokesmen in New York as in itself presenting strong provocation for a strenuous complaint against Marshal Tito's government.

Also, reports from Belgrade indicated that a Turkish Army captain who was shot in the back when the first U. S. transport was forced down by Yugoslav fighters will continue to be held on the suspicion he was a spy attempting to detect extent of Yugoslav army mobilization.

Ultimatum Expires Today

The State department's 48-hour ultimatum to Tito—which expires today—had called specifically for release of "all" passengers and crew members who were aboard both planes, and who had been interned. This would include the Turk.

Finally, Belgrade radio reported overnight that Tito was going to "reject" the American ultimatum on the ground he had released all survivors, save the Turk, of the two

PA NEWS OBSERVES

Victor Wagner brought into the News office on Friday afternoon, a sprig of lilac that was in full bloom. The flowers were grown on the property of Frank Young, Wood-lawn avenue. It is the second time that the lilac bushes have been in bloom this year. They bloomed in May and then the frost nipped them. Perhaps the cool weather of the past few days has the lilac bushes fooled thinking it is early spring.

Motorists and pedestrians alike were voicing much favorable comment, Friday afternoon during an inspection and tour of the newly opened spur route 422, running from the Butler avenue intersection at East Washington street down to Grove street. When the sidewalks are added, the thoroughfare will be one in which the city can take pride.

More directional signs have been added by State Highway workmen informing motorists as to the location of the State Highway patrol. New signs have been erected at the East Washington and Oak streets.

The prominent odor of moth balls and other deodorants on the city buses, indicates to Pa. News, that the cool weather of the past few days is bringing out of storage many garments that were stored away early in the spring of the year, with the owners not expecting to wear them until some time in October at least.

At least one city bus had its heating system turned on during the early hours of this morning with the resulting heat very much appreciated by the bus riders. Pa. News noted in his observations on Friday evening that smoke was coming from more than one home in the city, indicating that heat was needed in the homes.

There certainly is no uniformity of the color used on fire hydrants

Turkey Accepts U. S. Proposal On Dardanelles

ANKARA, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Turkish news sources reported today that Turkey has accepted the American proposal for United Nations guarantee of the Dardanelles Straits.

Turkey previously had disclosed its rejection of the Soviet request for joint defense bases on Turkish soil and limitation of control over the Straits to the four Black Sea powers.

The Anatolian news service said Turkey's reply to the Soviet proposals described them as "incompatible with the sovereignty of Turkey."

Protect Dardanelles

The Turkish note asserted the Ankara government would use all its forces to protect the Dardanelles against any future aggression, from whatever side it may come.

The note added:

"Even in the unlikely case of Soviet Russia fearing an attack against her positions in the Black Sea from the Mediterranean through the Straits, the Turkish government considered it would be a case for the United Nations."

The note also indicated a desire to hold a conference soon to discuss changes in the Montreux convention, which now governs passage rights through the Straits.

Turkey also denied Soviet charges that Axis vessels were permitted to sail through the Dardanelles illegally during the recent war.

Dark Bread Era To End On September 1

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(INS)—While bread at probably cheaper prices will return to store counters next month accompanied by 20 per cent more whisky and 21 1/2 per cent more beer.

This is the result of Secretary of Agriculture Anderson easing restrictions on the use of grain.

Manufacture of corn starch syrups, corn sugar, used chiefly in candy, starches, corn meals, etc., etc. also will be increased by Anderson's actions.

Dark Bread Era To End

The secretary ordered an end to the famine-relief dark bread era by terminating the 80 per cent extraction rate on wheat flour. He restored the normal 72 per cent extraction quota, effective Sept. 1.

O. P. A. has said bread prices would be slashed one cent a loaf when the flour milling restrictions were removed.

Beginning a week from tomorrow brewers will be permitted to use 85 per cent as much grain for the manufacture of beer and ale as they used in the similar months of 1945. At present they can use only 70 per cent of the 1945 consumption.

Export Goal Increased

Distillers were authorized to use approximately three million bushels of grain, other than wheat, a month instead of the "two and one-half million bushel monthly quota."

Anderson also announced that the 1946-47 export has been increased from 250 million bushels of wheat and flour to 400 million bushels of all grain and grain products.

ULTIMATUM ENDS SOMETIME TODAY (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(INS)—The 48 hours given Marshal Tito to comply with American demands in the shooting down of two American transport planes ticked toward a close today with only an ominous silence from the state department.

But, despite the normal Saturday holiday, there was a flurry of activity throughout the grey-pillared building as dispatches from American embassies in Europe were decoded and studied.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(INS)—The United States today withheld decision on appealing its case against Yugoslavia to the United Nations pending an official report on the shooting down of five American fliers whose mutilated bodies have been found in a common Yugoslavian grave.

A report on the incident was expected to be received overnight at the state department from Richard C. Patterson, who visited the scene of the crash and was informed that the Americans were buried "piecemeal" by a group of peasants from the Slovenian village of Koprivnik.

Before American investigators announced that the bodies had been found, Acting Secretary of State Acheson made clear at a news conference that the United States would not be inclined to take a kinder view of the situation were

The famed ex-commander of the Fifth Task Force in the Pacific said he had no intention of visiting Haifa, Trieste or the Dardanelles.

Discovers New Way Of Delivering Mail, But Lands In Jail

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 24. — (INS) — Edwin K. Shriver, 18-year-old Washington mail carrier, has his own way of disposing of the mail.

Postal inspectors said that since last June when Shriver took over a rural mail route he threw away at least 5,000 letters. More than half have been recovered.

Shriver gave no reason for discarding the letters but postal inspectors said they believed he carried them past their proper mailbox and threw them away to avoid retracting the route.

U.S. DELAYS TITO DECISION

Official Report On Shooting Down Five Fliers Awaited

Tito May Face Complaint In U. N. Council

Possibility Of American Arraignment Of Yugoslavia Before U. N. Seen

FORMAL ACTION BEING DELAYED

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(INS)—American arraignment of Yugoslavia before the bar of the United Nations Security Council remained a good possibility today.

Conceded death of all five airmen by burning in the second U. S. transport plane shot down over Yugoslavian territory and their subsequent burial in a common grave was regarded by some American spokesmen in New York as in itself presenting strong provocation for a strenuous complaint against Marshal Tito's government.

Also, reports from Belgrade indicated that a Turkish Army captain who was shot in the back when the first U. S. transport was forced down by Yugoslav fighters will continue to be held on the suspicion he was a spy attempting to detect extent of Yugoslav army mobilization.

Ultimatum Expires Today

The State department's 48-hour ultimatum to Tito—which expires today—had called specifically for release of "all" passengers and crew members who were aboard both planes, and who had been interned. This would include the Turk.

Finally, Belgrade radio reported overnight that Tito was going to "reject" the American ultimatum on the ground he had released all survivors, save the Turk, of the two.

PA NEWCO OBSERVES

Victor Wagner brought into the New office on Friday afternoon, a sprig of lilac that was in full bloom. The flowers were grown on the property of Frank Young, Woodlawn avenue. It is the second time that the lilac bushes have been in bloom this year. They bloomed in May and then the frost nipped them. Perhaps the cool weather of the past few days has the lilac bushes fooled thinking it is early spring.

Motorists and pedestrians alike were voicing much favorable comment. Friday afternoon during an inspection and tour of the newly opened spur route 422, running from the Butler avenue intersection at East Washington street down to Grove street. When the sidewalks are added, the thoroughfare will be one in which the city can take pride.

More directional signs have been added by State Highway workers informing motorists as to the location of the State Highway patrol. New signs have been erected at the East Washington and Oak streets.

The prominent odor of moth balls and other deodorants on the city buses indicates to Pa. Newco that the cool weather of the past few days is bringing out of storage many garments that were stored away early in the spring of the year, with the owners not expecting to wear them until some time in October at least.

At least one city bus had its heating system turned on during the early hours of this morning with the resulting heat very much appreciated by the bus riders. Pa. Newco noted in his observations on Friday evening that smoke was coming from more than one home in the city, indicating that heat was needed in the homes.

There certainly is no uniformity of the colors used on fire hydrants.

Seeking To Identify Mangled Remains Of Five American Fliers

BELGRADE, Aug. 24.—(INS)—American military and diplomatic personnel examined the mangled, mutilated bodies in a common grave in Yugoslavia today to identify five U. S. airmen aboard a transport plane shot down last Monday.

Condition of the bodies made it impossible to identify the victims immediately, but a Yugoslav announcement said the entire crew of five was killed.

Ambassador Richard C. Patterson and Col. Richard Patridge, U. S. military attaché in Belgrade, are in the Slovene town of Bled to assist the American graves registration detail.

Patterson learned the fliers were buried "piecemeal" by a group of peasants from the Slovene village of Koprivnik, with religious rites performed by a local Catholic priest named Father Laura.

"Very Mutilated"

Patterson and Patridge were cautioned that all bodies in the grave are "very mutilated." The ambassador said he would be in the area for several days.

Turkey Accepts U. S. Proposal On Dardanelles

ANKARA, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Turkish news sources reported today that Turkey has accepted the American proposal for United Nations guarantee of the Dardanelles Straits.

Turkey previously had disclosed its rejection of the Soviet request for joint defense bases on Turkish soil and limitation of control over the Straits to the four Black Sea powers.

The Anatolian news service said Turkey's reply to the Soviet proposals described them as "incompatible with the sovereignty of Turkey."

Protect Dardanelles

The Turkish note asserted the Ankara government would use all its forces to protect the Dardanelles against any future aggression from whatever side it may come.

The note added:

"Even in the unlikely case of Soviet Russia tearing an attack against our positions in the Black Sea from the Mediterranean through the Straits, the Turkish government considered it would be a case for the United Nations."

The note also indicated a desire to hold a conference soon to discuss changes in the Montreux convention, which now governs passage rights through the Straits.

Turkey also denied Soviet charges that Axis vessels were permitted to sail through the Dardanelles illegally during the recent war.

Gen. Marshall In New Attempt At Peace For China

Confers With Chiang Kai-Shek In New Effort To Solve Civil War Difficulties

SHANGHAI, Aug. 24.—(INS)—General George C. Marshall conferred in the summer capital of China today with Chiang Kai-Shek in a new try at solving the difficulties at the base of the Chinese civil hostilities.

Marshall intended to propose that Chiang, the Communists, and various smaller political units establish a temporary state council as a sort of coalition government.

It was uncertain whether the Communists would agree to Marshall's plan because they have urged cessation of Civil War before any further steps toward reconciliation are taken.

Would Govern Area

The council proposed by Marshall would control all troops and govern disputed territory.

In Nanking, a Communist spokesman said:

PARIS, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes met privately today with British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin to discuss a British proposal that the Big Four hold a concurrent parley in an effort to speed deliberations of the peace conference.

Byrnes at first objected to what seemed might develop into "dilatation" by the big power, but after a talk of an hour and 20 minutes, during which Bevin insisted something urgent must be done to prevent the conference from dragging on for months, Byrnes veered toward acceptance of a "streamlined" method.

It was understood that Bevin stressed the fact that it is useless

Dark Bread Era To End On September 1

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(INS)—White bread at probably cheaper prices will return to store counters next month accompanied by 20 per cent more whisky and 21 per cent more beer.

This is the result of Secretary of Agriculture Anderson easing restrictions on the use of grain.

Manufacture of corn starch syrups, corn sugar, used chiefly in candy, starches, corn meals, grits, etc., also will be increased by Anderson's actions.

Dark Bread Era To End

The secretary ordered an end to the famine-relief dark bread era by terminating the 30 percent extraction rate on wheat flour. He restored the normal 72 percent extraction quota, effective Sept. 1.

O. P. A. has said bread prices would be slashed one cent a loaf when the flour milling restrictions were removed.

Beginning a week from tomorrow brewers will be permitted to use 65 per cent as much grain for the manufacture of beer and ale as they used in the similar months of 1945. At present they can use only 70 per cent of the 1945 consumption.

Export Goal Increased

Distillers were authorized to use approximately three million bushels of grain, other than wheat, a month instead of the two and one-half million bushel monthly quota.

Anderson also announced that the 1946-47 export has been increased from 250 million bushels of wheat and flour to 400 million bushels of all grain and grain products.

WORKER CRUSHED TO DEATH

SOMERSET, Pa., Aug. 24.—(INS)—The Somerset county coroner's office today said that Elwood L. Fleeline, 38, of Spiesville, was crushed to death yesterday in a cave-in during excavation for a new mine at the Berkeley Brothers Coal Company near Soapport.

Although refusing to comment further on the situation, he indicated he felt the crisis had passed and that the dispute could be presented to the council, should the United States so desire, coincident with the convening of the UN General Assembly in New York September 23.

The senator conferred with Acting Secretary of State Acheson before departure for Paris.

Vandenberg expressed the hope that the peace conference would complete its work before the date for the convening of the general assembly.

Washington Is Uninformed On Tito's Attitude

Mutilated Bodies Of American Fliers Found In Common Grave In Yugoslavia

ULTIMATUM ENDS SOMETIME TODAY

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(INS)—The 48 hours given Marshal Tito to comply with American demands in the shooting down of two American transport planes ended today with only an ominous silence from the state department.

But, despite the normal Saturday holiday, there was a flurry of activity throughout the grey-pillared building as dispatches from American embassies in Europe were decoded and studied.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.

(INS)—The United States today withheld decision on appealing its case against Yugoslavia to the United Nations pending an official report on the shooting down of five American fliers whose mutilated bodies have been found in a common Yugoslavian grave.

A report on the incident was expected to be received overnight at the state department from Richard C. Patterson, who visited the scene of the crash and was informed that the Americans were buried "piecemeal" by a group of peasants from the Slovene village of Koprivnik.

Before American investigators announced that the bodies had been found, Acting Secretary of State Acheson made clear at a news conference that the United States would not be inclined to take a kinder view of the situation were

Deny Marshal Tito Has Rejected U. S. Ultimatum

By LOVETT EDWARDS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BELGRADE, Aug. 24.—A United States embassy spokesman today denied that Marshal Tito has "rejected" the American ultimatum on the shooting down of American army transport planes.

As U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson, Jr., and other American officials examined the mutilated remains of five American fliers shot down last Monday and found buried in a common grave, Harold Shantz, first secretary of the United States embassy, took issue with reports of the rejection.

Peculiarly Worded Text

He indicated that the peculiarly worded text of an official Yugoslavian statement was "fair."

The badly decomposed body was found at the end of a trail by Scott Terry.

Terminal Leave Blanks For Vets At Post Office

Veterans of this city can pick up their terminal leave blanks in the Post Office building starting today. It was announced by Postmaster Robert Hanna.

The forms are to be obtained at the general delivery or stamp windows. Definite instructions for the proper accomplishment of the papers are written on the forms.

What was it that man in the seed stores said as he sang of the seeds that he sold, the pumpkins would grow to the size of balloons and be a most delicate gold. The spuds would be large and appealingly white, the tomatoes, oh huge ones, and red, and so he went on as he sold me some more, did he mean all those things that he said? The pumpkins came up and then promptly went down, and the spuds are a weak looking lot, tomatoes are fair and the cabbage hot bad, but of corn we will just get a spot. But next year I suppose I'll be back there again as he turns all his glum on me and tells me the seeds that he sells are the best—the weather is seventy-three.

Woman Reaches 102nd Birthday

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 24.—(INS)—John Tyler, the nation's 10th president, was in office when Mrs. Gordon Stoltzfus was born 102 years ago today on a farm near Gordonville in Lancaster county.

Believed to be the oldest Lancaster county resident, Mrs. Stoltzfus will celebrate her anniversary in a very quiet fashion. She has been confined to bed during the past eight months as a result of an attack of pneumonia.

Few of the aged woman's 197 living descendants were expected to be present to help her celebrate her second year over the century mark.

Mrs. Stoltzfus held her last birthday party two years ago. Prior to her illness she reported she was able to "get around pretty well."

A member of the Amish church, she was married to Gideon Stoltzfus in 1870. Five children were born of the union.

Mrs. Stoltzfus, who speaks Pennsylvania Dutch and very little English, resides with a daughter-in-law at Gordonville, 10 miles northeast of Lancaster.

Plans Progress For Convention Here In October

Conference On Arrangements To Take Place On September 5 In New Castle

Plans are progressing nicely for the entertainment of the 84th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, at the Cathedral, this city, October 8 to 11, and General Secretary Ivan M. Gould and Adult Superintendent an Associate General Secretary Ira C. Sassaman will be in New Castle Thursday, September 5 to meet with members of the local committee.

Letters were sent this week to the ministers and Sunday school superintendents who have not met their quota of delegates for the state convention as yet. It is hoped that the goal of 1000 paid delegates will be reached by September 1, and those Sunday schools that are 100 per cent will be placed on the convention honor roll.

The next matter to be taken up will be the entertainment of visiting delegates from all over Pennsylvania, in the homes of the city. September 8 will be the Sunday when this matter will be stressed in the churches of the city.

Every county in the state has been given a quota of delegates, based largely on the distance to be traveled and the past experience of the county in sending delegates to the state conventions. Many of these counties have accepted the quotas set, and are planning to have as many or more than their quotas.

The state convention program will be published in the near future, and it is thought that this will be one of the best ever provided, containing the names of nationally known ministers, leaders and Sunday school specialists.

YOUNG WOMAN IS TAKEN ON $2,800 RIDE

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 24.—(INS)—A 23-year-old blonde taxicab dispatcher today had herself taken for a ride—for her $2,800 life savings.

Evelyn McDaniel of Richmond, Cal., told police she "loaned" two taxi drivers who had been fined $1,300 train fare to go to jobs in Portland, Ore. She and a girl companion went along.

Next she lent one of the men $1,500 to buy a new car on his pledge that "I'll get a job and we'll get married."

Miss McDaniel never saw her companion after that.

Received Ultimatum From U. S.

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia and his vice premier, Edward Kardelj, left, shown together during the war, are playing principal roles in the argument that has arisen between their country and the U. S. government over the action of Yugoslav fighters in forcing down an American transport plane and the disappearance of a second U. S. plane. A note dispatched from the U. S. State department to Marshal Tito demanded release of the airmen and permission to investigate the plane's disappearance, or the UN Security Council will be called upon to take action. At the same time, Kardelj was summoned by U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, now at the Paris peace conference, and told bluntly that there is no justification for shooting down planes in peacetime.

Uniontown Woman Charges 'Framing' In Divorce Action

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 24.—(INS)—Mrs. Alverda Lape Bradstock, of Uniontown, today charged that she was framed, mistreated, and that her husband, whose divorce action she is contesting, was in love with another woman.

The charges were made in answer to a bill of particulars presented by her estranged husband, Russell Bradstock, a Uniontown electrician.

Mrs. Bradstock denied the alleged "rendezvous" with Wade K. Newell, former Fayette county prosecutor and Sunday school teacher. She emphatically denied alleged acts of adultery.

Mrs. Bradstock's answer stated that Bradstock professed his "love for Elvie Gress" and boasted that Miss Gress had sex appeal which his wife lacked.

According to the answer, Bradstock proposed that if his wife filed divorce proceedings he would desert her home, give her custody of their two-year-old twins, Jack and Jill, maintain the family, pay for the separation and give her other money.

When she refused the answer disclosed, her husband beat her, remarking that he would "frame" her in order to secure a divorce.

To Train Linguists For Service In Army

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower announced approval today of a long-range peacetime program to create within the army a pool of global language experts for "future eventualities."

These trained linguists also would be thoroughly familiar with the political, geographical, economic and social factors concerning the countries whose languages they speak.

Eisenhower, army chief of staff, said that under this program selected army officers would be sent to countries where the foreign language they are assigned to learn is spoken.

Languages to be mastered include Russian, Japanese, Chinese, Portuguese, Spanish, Arabic, Greek and Hungarian.

The general asserted that the new program is planned to provide trained staff officers for postwar duties in the intelligence division, the attaché system and military missions to foreign countries and to create a pool of trained linguists for future eventualities.

Eisenhower said that studies in Japan and China would be carried out in those countries for three and four years, respectively.

As for Russia, Eisenhower asserted that three years of study regarding that nation and its language would be conducted in the Soviet Union "or in other countries where similar opportunities for informal contact are available."

He added that length of the Russian course "may be reduced if experience proves it to be feasible."

CLAIMS U. S. NAVY NOT CONCENTRATING IN MEDITERRANEAN

LONDON, Aug. 24. — (INS) — United States Vice-Admiral Marc A. Mitscher Friday denied reports that the American navy is concentrating large forces in the Mediterranean area.

Adm. Mitscher said he had come to London on a routine visit to inspect personnel. He said that if the British and American navies participate in joint maneuvers, this would be purely in the nature of training as both remain under joint command until final peace treaties are signed.

The famed ex-commander of the Fifth Task Force in the Pacific said he had no intention of visiting Haifa, Trieste or the Dardanelles.

Plenty Caves

There are plenty of caves in these parts and if you're lucky, you might get one of those equipped with electricity and running water.

A luxurious "cave-estate" is located between Burnet and Marble Falls. Its large, breezy rooms and underground brooks combine to make a perfect home for even the most particular cave-man. Climb in and see this beautiful property and note its unusual features. It features subterranean streams stocked with adorable blind fish and a "game preserve" of salamanders and cave amphibia.

The cave has electric lights and all the calcite and onyx anyone could desire.

Giant New Plane With Five-Story Tail Dwarfs a B-29

THE SLEEK, SILVERED XB-36, the Army's newest and the world's largest land-based bomber, completely dwarfs the B-29 Superfortress on this Fort Worth, Tex., ramp. The giant plane, with a tail five stories high, is capable of flying round-trip non-stop from San Francisco to Tokyo. The craft's 38-minute maiden flight "exceeded all expectations." (International Soundphoto)

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

this was just "One World" and that we had to do to enjoy the abundant life would be for everybody all over the world to get together and "plan" just what every individual needed, and the "One World" government would pull everything out of a magic hat and we would live happily ever after.

Within a few years so many billions of dollars were shelled out to all who asked that the dream seemed to be coming true, that people didn't have to work or protect themselves to live.

Then came the war with its thrills, excitement and tragedies, together with the challenge to our productive and fighting ability. People seemed to have lost their sense of proportions, and exactly what constituted the realities of life. They didn't seem to recognize that we were the only country who could do it.

Those fighting on our side were friends and entitled to everything we could produce, our money and our good will. Our war enemies were blood-thirsty barbarians, and should be wiped off the face of the earth, body and soul.

We dreamed dreams about a "new world order" that would come to pass when our enemies were killed off and the victorious Allies would all get together in one big family in "One World."

All we would have to do would be to go fishing and spend our money, and let the government do the rest. Everything we needed would be dropped like manna from heaven. By whom? No one seemed to have thought about that. The Big Three or Big Four or Big Five were scurrying over the globe assuming to decide what was to be done for or to the other two and one-half billion people on the face of the earth. They were all to be self-governing, that was it. Every body was to have a vote on the kind of a government he wanted, and if anyone interfered he would get his block knocked off. By whom? Oh, I don't know that. But somebody. This was going to be "One World," don't you see? A "New World" Order. If a man didn't choose to work somebody would have to feed him and sing him to sleep. You wouldn't compel a man to work, would you? That would be against the law and the prophets, or profits. It would deprive him of his rights, his liberty.

So, the oftener the Big Three or Big Four or Big Five got together, the simpler it developed that somebody's got to run things if we've ever to have enough sugar and bacon again. Russia, despite our varied alertness, seemed to get the ruling idea first, and naturally, she wanted to be it. And she seemed willing, more than willing, to take on the job. So, we've started dumping all our marbles into staking the "One World" game.

There is a famous old toast, once extremely popular, often quoted and regarded as reasonably patriotic. That went something like this: "Our Country, May She Always Be Right; But Our Country, Right or Wrong."

Today we are infested with a breed of super global statesmen who sneer down any simple-minded loyal American who presumes to voice a sentiment favorable to placing the interests and welfare of America and Americas above those of any other nation or race. Such a man is a simpleton, a Fascist, an Isolationist, a poor ignorant, primitive, deluded mortal if he resists having his pocket picked or complains when his government makes it a criminal offense for him to butcher one of his yearling steers without first getting the consent of some bulldozing bureaucrat. That the man's family may be suffering for a few mouthfuls of bread and gravy means nothing to those "One World" governors who have set themselves up to run things. And it cuts no figure with these self-appointed dictators that this family man has more cattle on his hillside than he can feed. If there is a Hottentot in some far corner of the globe who hasn't any sirloins to eat, our Americans can't have any either. And this goes for pork chops, chickens, eggs, butter, cheese, sugar, flour, houses to live in and clothes to wear.

But the most tragic of all issues now boiling in this country is the proposal to give away America's secret on how to make the atomic bomb. The world is afraid of that atomic bomb, frightened stiff and as long as we keep it, even the craziest upstart on earth would not dare start another war. To share it would start a race for who could fire the first bomb—and the most dumbfounding of all proposals is that we destroy the ones we have.

Oh, Lord, restore our horse sense, unless You want a lot of us barging in on You in the near future.

WAA Halts Air
Field Transfer
Pending Hearings

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. — (INS) — The War Assets Administration on Thursday halted the transfer of the surplus Arizona airfield to a group headed by Lt. Gen. Barton K. Young, former head of the AAF Training Command, at a 100 per cent discount.

The agency simultaneously ordered a stop to the transfer of 52 other surplus real properties being sold to groups who were scheduled to use them for health and educational purposes.

WAA said the action was taken pending conclusion of current hearings on surplus property disposal being held by a House committee to investigate the disposal of surplus property.

The committee has questioned the authority of WAA to dispose of Thunderbird Field, near Glendale, Ariz., to the American Institute for Foreign Trade, an educational institution headed by Young.

All of the 53 surplus properties are those which have been assigned for disposal for health or educational purposes, even for transfer at a discount of 100 per cent or for lease at a nominal rental.

WAA officials said they would confer with justice department representatives on the question of WAA's authority to transfer surplus real property for health or educational uses.

The agency pointed out that final transfer had not been effectuated on any of the 53 properties. No Pennsylvania installations or institutions were involved. The action, however, halted transfer by lease for a nominal rental on Cambridge, O., to the state of Ohio.

Has Own System
Of Keeping Books

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — Some people take courses in bookkeeping but Dr. Kazimir Mieczkowski has originated a unique system of his own.

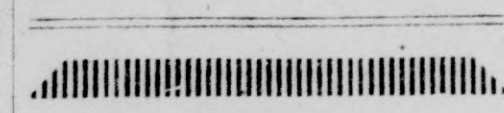

His bookkeeping methods came to light when his wife, Margaret, asked for $200 a week alimony pending the outcome of an indigency divorce action brought by her husband.

Mrs. Mieczkowski said that her husband records the amounts each patient pays by placing a star, circle, cross, or boat symbol after the name.

The wife stated that the doctor kept the romantic system of bookkeeping in a large notebook ever since they were married Christmas day, 1944, and that he explained that a "cross" meant a $3 treatment, a "star" a $5 treatment, the boat symbol, $7, and the circle or moon, $10.

EMBARRASSING TO JIMMY

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 24. — (INS) — Jimmy Durante was munching on a box of raisins when he reported back for the afternoon's work in M-G-M's "This Time for Keeps."

Jimmy said: "I ain't being pigish. I just didn't get no chance to get no lunch. I had to get my picture took for a magazine—a most embarrassing experience."

The idea was to have my picture taken with a parrot sitting on my shoulder. Well, they put the parrot on my shoulder and guess what? The first thing his bird does is to take a nib at my snout.

"I says to the man: 'Take this bird off my shoulder. I ain't going to have him taking swipes at my neck.'"

"Nice Gentle Bird"

The man says: 'Oh, he's a nice gentle bird, he ain't going to bother you.'"

"There was the bird sitting there and glaring at me and the man saying to me he wasn't going to bother me."

"I said to the man: 'Take that bird off my shoulder. If you're going to photograph us, you put him on a stick in back of my shoulder so he don't get no chance to take any more swipes at me.'"

"So that's what they did. All the time that bird was sitting there with molder in his eyes. 'I finally figured it out—that bird was jealous of me.'"

"It was most embarrassing."

Awaits Star's Visit

Like any other prospective mother, Esther Williams can hardly wait for her baby to arrive. That's a little more than four months off.

The conversation started when your reporter asked Esther how much time she was going to take off from picture work after the birth of "Little Esther."

"Little Ben, you mean," said Esther, referring to her hubby, Ben Gage.

She continued: "I don't think I should come back to work for at least three months after he comes. I don't think it would be wise for me to return any sooner than that."

"The happiest moment of my life will be when the baby comes. I just want to watch him grow up every minute of the time."

THE PARENT
PROBLEM

Prompt Punishment

When you are sure she must be punished, do it promptly and effectively and have it over. Rule out all jawing. Don't wait till you and she are all worked up. When you say "No" or "Don't," say it just once. If she does not stop at once, spank her soundly or assign her to sit in a chair for 20 minutes. Pick out just a few things you will forbid, things you can check on with your own eyes. Then the punishment can always follow the offense at once and without exception.

Since she tears her clothes or marks on the walls when you do not see her, punishment hardly will work for them. Be with her always when she has a pencil or crayon. Show her how to write only on the proper thing (paper). Threatening to take away the dress she has torn is a bad way. As you train her better to handle other things with care, and win her affection in many ways, she will probably quit tearing her clothes.

Read to her a great deal. Induce the older girl to do so. The more this older child will do for the younger, the happier both will be. Most of all, work on yourself not to let yourself be often vexed at that little child.

Your problem is not easy, but I know you are going to win. I am sure you are doing better than you think you are.

Hints On Etiquette

If you ride a bicycle, don't forget that it is a "vehicle," and subject to the rules that govern vehicles.

Montgomery Forbids
Women At Functions

Nova Scotia Woman Mayor Will Be Excluded From Functions Attended By Montgomery

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 23. — (INS) — The mayor of one Nova Scotia town won't be invited to the reception given for Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery when he arrives at Halifax on Saturday.

The mayor is Gladys Porter of Kentville, and she is being excluded for only one reason—that she is a woman.

The viscount, on tour of Canada and the United States, has firmly specified that no women be guests at functions he attends.

RARE OPERATION

BROOKLINE, Mass. — (INS) — Sixteen-year-old Robert Morris is recovering at Beth Israel hospital following a rare heart operation, described by doctors as the second of its kind in the United States. During the operation the heart stopped beating for several seconds and then resumed with a stronger stroke.

The Volga is the longest river in Europe.

Is Straight Line
Shortest Distance
Between Points?

KALAMAZOO, Mich. — (INS) — The Kalamazoo City Commission has demonstrated by a vote its belief that a short line is the straightest distance between two points.

A license for the take-out sale of beer for a supermarket was denied, because the store is directly across the street from St. Augustine High School.

State law requires a minimum of 500 feet between schools or churches and such stores. Felix H. Flynn of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission held the legal distance was from the school—in the middle of the block—to the nearest cross walk, then across the street and down the other side. That would be about 625 feet.

Mayor Henry Ford, Jr., said the Commission ruling "is simply ridiculous." The council upheld him by denying the license.

BOSTON — (INS) — Despite heavy battle losses, the American population during World War II increased by seven and one-half million and England's population increased by approximately 700 thousand, insurance company statistics disclose.

Universals And Lawrence Indies Open Title Series Sunday

Opening Battle At E. & A. Field Managers Decide

New Castle's "Little World Series" Expected To Draw Thousands; Start 3 P. M.

New Castle baseball fans are going to have their own "Little World Series" starting Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the E. & A. field in Mahoningtown, with the Universal A. A. of the second-half champions battling the Lawrence Indies, the first-half champs, in the City Baseball League.

The series will be the best out-of-seven games. The second game will be played at Washington field next Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. The third game Sunday September 1 at the E. & A. field; the fourth game on Monday, September 2, Labor Day, 3 o'clock at Washington field; the fifth game at the E. & A. field on Wednesday, September 4; the sixth game at Washington on Sunday, September 8; the seventh game if necessary to be decided by the flip of a coin.

All details worked out. All arrangements for the big series was made last night at a meeting of the two involved managers, George "Boss" Zidon of the Lawrence Indies and Mickey Huff of the Universals acting for "Dutch" Hill.

The Universals won the second-half of the other night by turning in their 20th win in 21 league starts, while the Indies took the first-half with 19 wins in 22 starts, both fine records assuring the fans of seeing a great series.

Franchise Money Returned. Michael "Jack" Babovsky, secretary and treasurer of the series, was present at the meeting last night and had his checkbook with him, returning the franchise money of $50.00 to the managers who were present. It was decided that the league games for Sunday will be called off to allow the series to fall away.

The City Baseball league this year has a tremendous success with its 12 teams, the biggest league ever to operate here. The success was due to the cooperation of the league officials: C. P. Walther, president; Joe O'Leary, vice-president; and Mr. Babovsky secretary and treasurer.

Managers Retire. Both managers in the series were reluctant when asked for starting pitcher assignments in the series opener. "Let's wait until Sunday and see what the weather's like."

Indications point to over 3,000 fans at the E. & A. field for the Sunday opener. The Sunday games will be nine-inning games, the twilight games will be seven-innings. The Lawrence County Umpires association is furnishing the umpires three for each series game. Del Hartman will make the assignments.

PLAN BASEBALL SCHOOL. BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 24—(INS)—The New York Yankees will conduct a baseball school for three days beginning next Saturday at Butler. Youths from 16 to 21 seeking a professional baseball career are eligible for the tryouts.

Benefit Game Next Tuesday

Joe Augustine, genial manager of the South Hill baseball club today announced that a benefit game will be played next Tuesday evening at Washington field at 6 o'clock between his South Hill city league team and the Ellwood City Elks now battling Wampum for the county league title.

The benefit is for young 14-year old Joe Galmario, the youngster who suffered a severe hand injury in a recent accident at the South Hill field. It is hoped that a good crowd will see this game, and give young Joe a lift on his expenses.

Ellwood Opens At Brownsville

Wolverines Fill Open September 13 Date With Classy Double A High School

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 24—Ellwood City has added the eighth team to their schedule for the 1946 season and will open with Brownsville, a class AA school, at the "Brownies" field, September 13.

Booking of the Pittsburgh valley team will lift the lid on the Wolverines' card in the event they cannot find an opponent for September 6. The contract calls for a two-year home and home arrangement, and places seven class AA opponents on the Tubers' lineup for this season.

Scrimmage Thursday. Thursday afternoon coaches "Dutch" Croft and Howard Gilks put their charges through the first scrimmage. Earlier in the week the squad went through passing, blocking, tackling and running drills, with the two mentors carefully checking the talent available and making mental notes as to the boys who will make the trip to training camp next week.

Most of the lads have bumps and bruises to show for their efforts on the Lincoln Field site, but only one serious injury has occurred. Larry Friday, junior tackle, twisted his knee and will be out of action for a week.

Wampum Defeats Ellwood Elks, 3-2

Legion Breaks Deadlock In 8th Frame To Take Series Opener Before Huge Crowd

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 24—There is no joy in this town today. Last night the local fans turned out by the thousands to see their Elks engage Wampum in the County League series opener, and when the dust cleared the Tubers were holding the short end of a 3-2 score, the Legion having tripped the Friedhoff-Volpe club in their own backyard.

Some 2,500 persons crammed the Ewing Park field to see this opening salvo for the loop banner, and a rousing good ball game ensued.

Managed "Bud" Wardman of the Wampumites sent Frank Powell to the rubber and the veteran flinger acquitted himself well, keeping the Elks' bats controlled throughout, and limiting them to five blows. The Elks sent their ace, Tommy Beatrice to the slab, and he was touched for seven hits and all three runs in eight innings. Ellsworth Bauder was rushed in for the relief trick.

Wampum Tallies First. The invaders drew first blood in the sixth frame. Dale Brown sent a screaming double into the pasture, and took third when Emil Fontana sacrificed. The Legion second-sacker then came home on Palagallo's infield out.

The Elks battled back into the picture in the seventh when Billy Cole whammed out a triple, and was singled home by co-pilot Friedhoff.

The eighth saw all the rest of the scoring and Wampum sewed up the contest. Joe Mills opened with a one-base sock, and was shoved to second on Marshall's sacrifice. Brown then walked and both runners advanced on Fontana's infield out. Lanky Nick Palagallo then rang the bell with a long single, scoring both men.

At Wampum Sunday. Ellwood again used long clouting to tally in the same frame. Neither hit for three bases and came in on Charlie Milnes lone fly to the outfield.

Sunday the spotlight will switch to Wampum where the two clubs will clash again in the second "go" of the series.

New Wilmington Gains In Series

Rodgers Club Defeats St. Margarets 2-1 At E. and A. Field Friday Evening

Behind the brilliant pitching of Brush, New Wilmington edged nearer the North County league flag last night as they edged St. Margarets, 2-1, before an overflow crowd at E. and A. field.

The Wilmington flinger, who hurled two-hit ball, had quite an opponent in DeSimone of the Saints as the two chukkers battled through six scoreless innings. The up-country nine showed across both third markers in the last frame and the Saints scored one in the bottom half of the curtain inning. Nocera came in to relieve DeSimone in the hectic seventh.

Only extra base sock of the game was Pelosi's double for the Saints.

All-Stars Top Rams 16 To 0

College Boys Score Decisive Win Over National Pro Champions

CHICAGO, Aug. 24—(INS)—The shadow of things to come in professional football this fall was cast across the nation's gridiron today in the wake of the college all-stars' decisive 16 to 0 defeat of the Los Angeles Rams, National league champions.

Head Coach Bo McMillin's far from "pore ill" boys' pummeled the favored Rams last night before 97,380 fans in Chicago's spacious Soldier field.

And thereby hangs a tale. Hirsch Big Star. The 13th annual all-star classic assumed proportions other than a football exhibition when the new All-America Football conference placed 38 of its future players in the contest.

It was, in a small effect, the National Football league vs. the upstart All-America conference, and the outcome must have provided untold joy in the ranks of the new conference.

For, it was an All-America backfield man—Wisconsin's Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch—who was the all-stars' big gun. Hirsch ran wild to score two touchdowns, and otherwise make himself a nuisance to the Rams.

Steve Belloise Loses To Abrams

Sensational Upset In Middleweight Fight At Madison Square Garden Friday

A crowd of 9,851 paid $34,995 to see the bout.

Football Outlook At New Castle Hi Is Most Promising

Fifty Young Candidates Are Working Like Beavers At Camp Rentz

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh Starting His 25th Season With Good Looking Material

New Castle high school is going to have a good football team this fall, just how good remains to be seen when the opening game rolls around September 6, with Erie East High furnishing the opposition at the stadium. Right now, 50 young candidates are at Camp Fred L. Rentz giving their best in an effort to make the varsity. Only four regulars are back from the 1945 squad.

As Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh, starting his 25th year at the grid helm here, goes about the business of looking over his material in camp he has a wry smile. When "Bridy" is pleased he smiles. His material is fairly heavy this year, they lack the speed that the 1945 squad had, but this will come in time as the season progresses.

Of course, as "Bridy" put it, a lot of changes can take place in the next few days. There are still eleven places open if any of the young men show me they deserve it, they will get a first team chance.

Enjoying Camp Life. The boys are thoroughly enjoying the camp life. They are eating very well. Of course, roasted beef, meat loaf, ham, fish, and that sort of stuff isn't hard to take. They all have appetites.

When the team hits town again and resumes workouts at the stadium they will know the fundamentals. They will know their plays. Only the rough edges will need to be taken off for the opening kick-off.

Are Looking Ahead. The team is looking ahead to the rough 10-game card, with those six tough Class AA games uppermost in their minds, with Butler, Sharon, Farrell, Altoona, Clairton and Aliquippa. But, they are not overlooking the other games either—Erie East, Youngstown East, Erie Academy and Warren. O.

If New Castle can wade through the six clubs . . . Yanks, Dodgers, Giants, Tigers, Cubs and Red Sox . . . pass million mark in home attendance . . . and two others . . . Braves and Phils . . . might make the grade.

Woman Reaches 102nd Birthday

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 24.—(INS)—John Tyler, the nation's 10th president, was in office when Mrs. Gordon Stoltzfus was born 102 years ago today on a farm near Gordonville in Lancaster county.

Believed to be the oldest Lancaster county resident Mrs. Stoltzfus will celebrate her anniversary in a very quiet fashion. She has been confined to bed during the past eight months as a result of an attack of pneumonia.

Few of the aged woman's 197 living descendants were expected to be present to help her celebrate her second year over the century mark.

Mrs. Stoltzfus held her last birthday party two years ago. Prior to her illness she reported she was able to "get around pretty well."

A member of the Amish church, she was married to Gideon Stoltzfus in 1870. Five children were born of the union.

Mrs. Stoltzfus, who speaks Pennsylvania Dutch and very little English, resides with her daughter-in-law at Gordonville, 10 miles northeast of Lancaster.

Plans Progress For Convention Here In October

Conference On Arrangements To Take Place On September 5 In New Castle

Plans are progressing nicely for the 10th anniversary of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, at the Cathedral, this city, October 8 to 11, and General Secretary Ivan M. Gould and Adult Superintendent and Associate General Secretary Dr. Sassaman will be in New Castle Thursday, September 5 to meet with members of the local committee.

Letters were sent this week to the ministers and Sunday school superintendents who have not met their quota of delegates for the state convention as yet. It is hoped that the goal of 1000 paid delegates will be reached by September 1, and those Sunday schools that are 100 percent will be placed on the convention honor roll.

The next matter to be taken up will be the entertainment of visiting delegates from all over Pennsylvania, in the homes of the city.

Every county in the state has been given a quota of delegates, based largely on the distance to be traveled and the past experience of the county in sending delegates to the state conventions. Many of these counties have accepted the quotas set, and are planning to have as many or more than their quotas.

The state convention program will be published in the near future, and it is thought that this will be one of the best ever provided, containing the names of nationally known ministers, leaders and Sunday school specialists.

YOUNG WOMAN IS TAKEN ON $2,800 RIDE—PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 24.—(INS)—A 23-year-old blonde taxi cab dispatcher today had herself taken for a ride—for her $2,800 life savings.

Evelyn McDaniel of Richmond, Cal., told police she "loaned" two taxi drivers who had been fined $1,300 train fare to go to jobs in Portland, Ore. She and a girl companion went along.

Next she lent one of the men $1,500 to buy a new car on his pledge that "I'll get a job and we'll get married."

Miss McDaniel never saw her companion after that.

Dodgers-Cards Start Crucial Series Sunday

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Baseball America is on tenterhooks today awaiting the opening of the crucial four-game series between the Cardinals and Dodgers in St. Louis tomorrow.

Twenty-four hours before the series, which will decide the winner of the National League pennant, the setting is perfect with the two rivals still tied and fighting tooth and nail all the way down the stretch.

Dodgers-Cards Win
Both the Dodgers and the Cards were forced to go all the way to the ninth inning to win yesterday. In the afternoon, Brooklyn had as much as a temporary lead with a 2 to 1 triumph over Cincinnati, thanks to Kirby Higbe's pitching and a double by Stevens and Whitman's single in the ninth.

In the evening the Cards got right back on even terms with the Dodgers again when Johnny Beazley, pre-war ace who has been a powerhouse for the Cards in recent weeks, won a 2 to 1 duel to 1. The Cards' Phils. And another member of the old guard, Terry Moore, delivered a pinch single which won the game in the ninth.

Paul Erickson of the Chicago Cubs and Johnny Sain hooked up in an even more spectacular pitchers' battle, with Sain allowing only two hits and Erickson but three. In the seventh inning the Cubs bunched both their hits with two walks and an error to win 3 to 1.

Pirates Trounce Giants
Pittsburgh's Pirates trounced the New York Giants, 7 to 3, and are within one game of getting out of the league cellar.

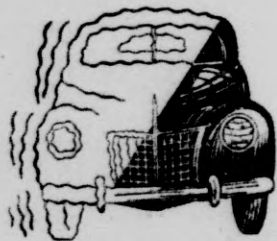

In the American league, the New York Yankees racked up their fifth straight victory by beating the St. Louis Browns again, 4 to 1. The Yanks advanced to within 12 games of the Boston Red Sox, whose game with the White Sox was washed out.

Dizzy Trout of Detroit blanked Washington, 5 to 0, in the second game of a twilight twin bill after the Senators had taken the opener, 3 to 2.

Mel Harder, Cleveland's grand old veteran, came up with a corking game but was unfortunate enough to run up against Jesse Flores of the Athletics, who held the Indians to three hits and blanked them 1 to 0.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 24.—Robert E. Harlow helped Walter Hagen make a million dollars in seven years—"an even million, I counted it up once"—helped him spend it, but disagrees with those parties who insist the old master would beat the modern greats.

Harlow said: "Hagen played about a dozen tournaments a year—these guys are out there whacking that ball around every day. No man that ever lived could spot these modern colgers all that tournament competition and still win."

Great Competitor
Harlow said that if you are a great competitor—and Hagen was all of that—you would be good under any conditions, and Hagen certainly would not be a pushover. If he played as much as these fellows he probably would be as good as they are, but to say that the old Haig could come walking out of his favorite cocktail lounge all fussed up by the indirect lighting and one thing and another and whip a Nelson who is fresh and fit is ridiculous.

Harlow added: "He was a terrific man, but these boys aren't mugs exactly. They take care of themselves, they practice every morning, play nearly every day, practice every afternoon, putt on the hotel roof rug until bedtime and some of them go out and practice in the rain in preparation for that day when they have to play in the rain. The steel-shafted clubs are better today than those old hickory handles, too."

Never Hurry Or Worry
What Harlow also might have added is that about the most practice Hagen ever needed was a brisk trot down the primrose path with an occasional respite at a wayside tavern.

What was it the old master used to say?—"Never hurry, never worry, and pick a few flowers on the way."

He deserved all he would get because he spread so much joy with it. In fact, the guy should have had his own private mint or a Carnegie endowment.

Still Doing Work
And if this sounds like a sob for a has-been, the impression is wrong. He's still doing much better than all right in business at Detroit and puts in an appearance at many of the big golfing fixtures. He isn't at Portland for the National Pro Championship which he won five times for a record, but if he were on hand the good people of the northwest would know about it. He still will never spend a nickel if a dollar will serve the purpose. There are people around who believe that golf was originated just to get Hagen into out-of-the-way places.

While he was traveling he made them all—Australia, the Orient and Europe. Harlow went to England with him seven times and brags about it as a feat comparable to a man climbing Mt. Everest or diving two miles into the ocean. You'd be lucky to survive one trip.

"I'm the guy that did it seven times," Harlow said, beating his chest. "I'm just not human that's all. As for that Hagen, he was the healthiest, most rugged brute that ever lived."

Think you're too old to hunt? Jack Parmenter of Sonoma County (Calif.) doesn't think so. He went out with a group of younger cronies and brought back his first buck for the 1946 deer season. His pals returned minus any venison. Parmenter is 75 years old.

County Youths To Play In Band At Kansas City Event

Mix From District Vocational Agriculture Classes Selected To Play At Convention.

Six boys in vocational agriculture classes of the Lawrence, Butler, Beaver district have been selected as members of the Pennsylvania State F. F. A. band which will play as the official band for the National Convention of the National Future Farmers of America at Kansas City in October. Names of the musicians were announced by James C. Fink, county vocational agriculture adviser who just returned from the Penn State college, where the band was assembled for its pre-convention rehearsal.

Those from the Mt. Jackson High school are Wendell Butler, cornet; Glenn Gwin, baritone; Louis Julian, clarinet; and S. D. McCracken, slide trombone, from the Harlansburg High school.

These boys are part of the 100-piece band which will be featured at the national convention program. Besides playing for the main program, the Pennsylvania state band will provide accompaniment for a 100-voice F. F. A. chorus from Wisconsin.

In addition to the series of rehearsals, the young instrumentalists were also measured for new uniforms while at State College this week. The natty, colorful uniforms will replace the white trousers, white shirt with black bow-tie worn on previous appearances of the State F. F. A. band when it played at the State Farm Show programs.

The new uniforms include blue corduroy jackets with gold F. F. A. emblem on the back. Dark blue overalls, white belt trousers and black shoes complete the ensemble. The boys will also have white shirts with gold-colored four-in-hand neckties bearing the blue F. F. A. emblem.

OLDEST TELEGRAPHER

COLUMBUS, O.—(INS)—Ninety-one-year-old Henry Perhan of Seattle, believed the oldest living telegrapher in the country, attended the semi-annual meeting of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers as he has done for the past 34 years. He attended his first O.R.T. convention in Chattanooga in 1892, and has missed only one since that time.

Blind Vet Runs Punch Press

FLINT, Mich.—(INS)—Harold Marston, 28-year-old veteran of the historic "Battle of the Bulge," is one of the few blinded veterans who has returned to his job under the GI Bill of Rights.

Marston is a punch press operator at the Buick Motor Division machine shop in Flint.

He has been back on his job since May 8, after taking a five-month rest and recreation leave following his discharge from the Army last December.

The veteran operates two machines involving completely diverse movements and has developed an agility which amazes even his co-workers, who are impressed with his eagerness and ability to learn.

He is to learn the operation of other machines in line with the policy of the Michigan Department of Social Welfare which seeks to develop a versatility in blind veterans entering industrial work.

Marston is married and has three children.

Gives Recipe For 'Apple Pan Dowdy'

ITHACA—(INS)—Mrs. William E. Kinghorn of Ithaca has the "apple pan dowdy" or "shoo-fly pie" song same as settled.

Mrs. Alfred Delaney of Albany found the recipe for "shoo-fly pie" in her Pennsylvania Dutch cook book, but reported she still didn't know what "apple pan dowdy" was. Mrs. Kinghorn volunteered the information and here it is:

"Arrange two cups of sliced apples in bottom of buttered dish. Sprinkle with one-fourth cup molasses or brown sugar and one fourth teaspoon each of nutmeg, cinnamon, and salt. Bake until apples are soft. Pour over cottage pudding batter and continue baking. Serve apple side up, with hard sauce or whipped cream. Serves six."

Staff members of the State College of Home Economics at Cornell University say that shoo-fly pie is not as unknown as some persons have been led to believe. For many cooks have been making the concoction of molasses crumbles or cake for years, and it is found in almost any good cook book.

Mussel Boats Use Underwater Sails

NEW YORK—(INS)—There are boats that have no masts but depend on sails under water to carry them along. They're called "mussel diggers," reports "Ships Magazine" and ply along the Ohio and Kentucky rivers, collecting the mussels from whose shells, shirt buttons and cheap jewelry are made.

The boats "dig" for the mussels with a brail, a long rod having two dozen or more hooks hanging from it. The brail is trailed behind the boat, and to counteract the drag of its weight, a sheet of muslin or canvas is dropped window-shade fashion over the bow. It sinks, fills with water and the river current "sails" boat and brail along downstream at just the speed required for "digging" mussels.

Coffee Is Taster's Favorite Beverage

NEW YORK—(INS)—J. W. Zawacki may not be the world's champion coffee drinker but there's no doubt that he ranks right near the top among consumers of America's favorite beverage.

Looking back on nearly 50 years in the coffee business, Zawacki estimated today that he has either drunk or tasted 750,000 cups of java in his lifetime. What's more, he gets paid for it.

Two-thirds of the 50-year-old Polish-American's near-record intake of coffee has been tested professionally as part of his job as chief coffee taster for A & P Food Stores, the nation's largest coffee processor, and distributor. The remaining one-third—some 250,000 cups—was strictly on an amateur basis.

Zawacki taste-tests an average of 50 cups of coffee daily. At home and during office hours, he also averages 16 cups a day just because he enjoys it.

Warns Beginners Against Climbing Mountains Alone

Expert Gives Novice Climbers Some Valuable Pointers On Mountain Climbing

CAMP CARSON, Colo.—(INS)—If you're planning to hike in the mountains, "don't go alone" is the sound advice of Col. David L. Ruffner, Commandant of the Mountain and Winter Warfare School and Training Center.

In answer to many questions from amateur mountaineers and in view of the many accidents that have recently befallen soldiers and civilians on mountain jaunts, Col. Ruffner was asked for a set of "camp do's" and "don'ts" for beginners in mountaineering.

These rules are based on long experiences in training U. S. Army mountain troops in the Colorado Rockies and in leading them in combat in the Apennine mountains of Italy.

Travel In Groups

"An experienced mountaineer never climbs alone," explains Colonel Ruffner. "The safest plan is to travel in groups of three or more, but never should less than two go out alone. For in case of accident, sickness, or fatigue to one member of the party, there's a good chance that the other can first care for the disabled and then go for help."

A man climbing alone has no margin of safety whatsoever. A fall from a cliff or steep slope inevitably results in broken bones. And a man alone with broken bones is, according to Col. Ruffner, just as good as lost.

Another example the Colonel gave of a common mountain ailment that could easily make any climber, novice or experienced, helpless is that, in high mountains the air is usually dry and as a result, perspiration is more quickly evaporated.

Climbers Misled

Thus, because their clothes are less frequently moist even after strenuous exercise, climbers are misled into thinking that they are not perspiring freely. This loss of fluid plus the loss of salt through perspiration soon leads to acute fatigue, with resulting muscle cramps and heat exhaustion unless measures toward their replacement are taken.

Police Of 25 Nations Unite Against Crime

LONDON—(INS)—With 25 nations already approving the idea, an international police bureau to ensure swift and concerted action between police forces throughout the world in the fight against crime will probably be established soon as a permanent feature. The British Home Office is now considering the liaison scheme in which a single bureau will act as international clearing house for crime.

Location of the headquarters has not been decided as yet but it is likely that it will be somewhere in the European Continent, possibly in Switzerland.

Fit Of Criminals

Plans include an international police gazette containing descriptions, fingerprints, and details of more than 200,000 known criminals. Senior police officials in various countries will come to work at a branch establishment at Scotland Yard, and in a similar way Scotland Yard men will be sent abroad to work with other police forces.

Crossing of frontiers will no longer increase criminal chances of evading justice. Experts are hard at work on the standardization of codes and systems of identification of facilitating international exchange of information.

INVITING GUESTS TO WEDDING ONLY

"I am going to be married at a distant church. Only our immediate families will witness the ceremony. Mother would like to have a reception afterward, inviting our other relatives and friends. What kind of invitations should be sent? When should the reception take place and what kind of refreshments should be served?"

Answer: If your wedding reception will be informal and held at home, you may send first person notes to your friends, inviting them thus to your reception.

If you will dress as a bride and have a large reception either at home or in a hotel, send formal, engraved invitations thus:

Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts request the pleasure of your company at the marriage reception of their daughter Mary Anne to

Mr. Edward Porter on (date)

at (place)

The favor of a reply is requested. The reception may take place at any time after the ceremony convenient to you. Entertainment usually consists of dancing. Your refreshments depend upon the time of day at which the party will take place. If morning or noon is chosen, serve a luncheon. If it is to be an afternoon reception, sandwiches, beverage and wedding cake. After an evening wedding, either a dinner or a supper is served according to the time it takes place.

Question: I am to be a bridesmaid at a wedding. Would it be correct for me to invite a young man, with whom I have been going around, to my wedding? If so, how should I do it?

Answer: Only those invited by the bride or her parents should attend a wedding. It is not the privilege of any guest to bring a friend along. It is not necessary to take a "escort" to a wedding reception.

To vary the flavor of fruit gelatin desserts use any red or white table wine for half of the liquid required in the recipe.

Teacher's Hobby Grows Into Foot Health Program

LORAIN, O.—(INS)—An unusual hobby which a Lorain High school biology teacher began when he worked as a part time shoe clerk has grown to a foot health program among 4,000 pupils in Lorain schools.

Joseph McKee urged that his program, believed to be the first of its kind in the United States, become a model for "foot-saving" education.

Customers' refusal to wear the right size shoes started McKee on his unusual hobby.

"Folks rebel at wearing even a half-size larger shoe because they say 'They look like canal boats,'" the teacher said. "And, incidentally, cartoonists attribute that sort of vanity to women—but it has been my experience that men fight more frequently and more savagely than women do against shoes a half-size larger."

McKee continued his study at Holy Cross college, in Worcester, Mass., and at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, where he devoted his thesis for a Master's Degree to the subject. He discovered that foot defects were among the most important of all defects found among youths of military age during World War I.

By measuring the feet of 4,000 pupils in Lorain schools and sending home cards to tell parents what size shoes youngsters should wear, McKee increased the number wearing shoes long enough considerably.

Tree 'Rustlin' Newest Racket

WARREN, Pa.—(INS)—Among the latest post-war rackets—tree rustling.

Vincent Merold, a nurseryman of nearby Sheffield, reported to police that thieves have raided his farm. He figured he lost more than 100 evergreens, worth about $500.

State police investigated. No trace of the tree stealers was found. But Merold today thought he had uncovered a clue when the German wastes were made into fine quality prisoners of war at Bull Hill camp.

were sent back to their native land. He discovered the camp decorated with hundreds of evergreens.

BUMPER CROP FOR ILLINOIS

MOUNT CARROLL, Ill.—(INS)—A bumper yield of food and feed crops for 1946 was in the making today for Illinois farmers. A survey showed estimates of the wheat crop were raised 50 million bushels from earlier forecasts to 1,072,543,000 bushels.

By a new chemical process and use of an hydraulic press, developed in 1945, sawdust and other wood wastes were made into fine quality hard wallboard.

President Is Fishing Champ

Turns Up As Champion Fisherman Of His Vacation Party

WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN IN THE BERMUDA ISLANDS, Aug. 24.—(INS)—President Truman, who has never been any great shakes as a fisherman, turned up today as the champion rod and reel man of the presidential party—and is George Allen's face red.

Allen, presidential adviser who pines himself on his dexterity as an Izak Walton, turned up with a score of exactly zero.

It was Allen who arranged a fishing party for the president, who cares naught for fishing, and egged the chief executive into going along.

The story: Caught by the party: Eight fish. Caught by the president: Three fish.

Caught by team of Allen and Col. Wallace Graham, the president's physician: No fish.

The presidential party headed out into waters southwest, and about four and a half miles off the Bermudas in a 50-foot cabin cruiser, the Mahana Second.

Hauls Out Snapper
Mr. Truman, wearing a white pith helmet and seersucker slacks, sat in a chair in the stern of the cruiser. He dropped his line overboard into six fathoms of water over a coral reef first.

There was a tug on the line and the president hauled up a three-pound red hind, member of the snapper family.

A few minutes later up came the president's line again, this time it was a four-pound black and yellow fish called the schoolmaster.

Cracked Military Aide Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan: "If he really tried hard he might catch the superintendent of education."

Then the president caught a six-and-a-half-pound rockfish.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross asked Fishing Guide Carl Stubbs: "How much does it weigh?"

Stubbs: "About six pounds."

Ross: "Can't you make it six and a half pounds?"

Stubbs: "Six and a half pounds it is."

Capt. James Fosket, the president's naval aide, had the top catch of four fish, but the president's weighed more.

Ted Marks, a friend of the president's, caught a five-pounder.

dent's from Kansas City, caught the eighth fish of the afternoon.

Allen, working hard with Col. Graham, succeeded in catching none "but about 15 big ones got away," he boasted.

A midafternoon rain squall interrupted the fishing party and the president returned to the Williamsburg Hotel, sunburned and happy early in the evening.

Allen was sunburned and burned up, too.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

this was just "One World" and that all we had to do to enjoy the abundant life would be for everybody all over the world to get together and "live."

Within a few years so many billions of dollars were shelled out to all who asked, that the dream seemed to be coming true, that people didn't have to work or protect themselves to live.

Then came the war with its thrills, excitement and tragedies, together with the challenge to our productive and fighting ability. People seemed to have lost their sense of proportions, and exactly what constituted the realities of life. They didn't seem to recognize that we were the only country who could do it.

Those fighting on our side were friends and entitled to everything we could produce, our money and our good will. Our war enemies were blood-thirsty barbarians, and should be wiped off the face of the earth, body and soul.

We dreamed of a new world order that would come to pass when our enemies were killed off and the victorious Allies would all get together in one big family in "One World."

All we would have to do would be to go fishing and spend our money, and let the government do the rest. Everything we needed would be dropped like manna from heaven. By whom? No one seemed to have thought about that.

The Big Three or Big Four or Big Five were scurrying over the globe assuming to decide what was to be done for or to the other two and one-half billion people on the face of the earth. They were all to be self-governing, that was it. Everybody was to have a vote on the kind of a government he wanted, and if anyone interfered he would get his block knocked off. By whom? Oh, I don't know that. But somebody.

This was going to be "One World." If a man didn't choose to work somebody would have to feed him, and sing him to sleep. You wouldn't compel a man to work, would you? That would be against the law and the prophets, or profits. It would deprive him of his rights, his liberty.

So, the oftener the Big Three or Big Four or Big Five got together, the simpler it developed that somebody's got to run things if we've ever to have enough sugar and bacon again. Russia, despite our vaunted alertness, seemed to get the ruling idea first, and naturally, she wanted to be it. And she seemed willing, more than willing, to take on the job. So, we've started dumping all our marbles into staking the "One World" game.

There is a famous old toast, once extremely popular often quoted and regarded as "reasonably patriotic," that went something like this—"Our Country * * * May She Always Be Right; but Our Country, Right or Wrong."

Today we are infested with a breed of super global statesmen who sneer down any simple-minded loyal American who presumes to voice a sentiment favorable to placing the interests and welfare of America and Americas above those of any other nation or race. Such a man is a simpleton, a Fascist, an Isolationist, a poor ignorant, primitive, deluded mortal if he resists having his pocket picked or complains when his government makes it a criminal offense for him to butcher one of his veiling steers without first getting the consent of some bulldozing bureaucrat. That the men's family may be suffering for a few mouthfuls of bread and gravy means nothing to those "One World" governors who have set themselves up to run things. And it cuts no figure with these self-appointed dictators that this family man has more cattle on his hillside than he can feed. If there is a hotpot in some far corner of the globe who hasn't any sirloins to eat, our Americans can't have any either. And this goes for pork chops, chickens, eggs, butter, cheese, sugar, flour, houses to live in and clothes to wear.

But the most tragic of all issues now boiling in this country is the proposal to give away America's secret on how to make the atomic bomb. The world is afraid of that atomic bomb, frightened stiff and as long as we keep it, even the craziest upstart on earth would not dare start another war. To share it would start a race for who could fire the first bomb—and the most dumbfounding of all proposals is that we destroy the ones we have. Oh, Lord, restore our house sense, unless you want a lot of us hanging in on you in the near future.

WAA Halts Air Field Transfer Pending Hearings

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(INS)—The War Assets Administration on Thursday halted the transfer of the surplus Arizona airfield to a group headed by Lt. Gen. Burton K. Yount, former head of the AAF Training Command, at a 100 per cent discount.

The agency simultaneously ordered a stop to the transfer of 52 other surplus real properties being sold to groups who were scheduled to use them for health and educational purposes.

WAA said the action was taken pending conclusion of current hearings on surplus property disposal being held by a House committee to investigate the disposal of surplus property.

The committee has questioned the authority of WAA to dispose of Thunderbird Field, near Glendale, Ariz., to the American Institute for Foreign Trade, an educational institute headed by Yount.

All of the 53 surplus properties are those which have been assigned for disposal for health or educational purposes, even for transfer at a discount of 100 per cent or for lease at a nominal rental.

WAA officials said they would confer with justice department representatives on the question of WAA's authority to transfer surplus real property for health or educational uses.

The agency pointed out that final transfer had not been effectuated on any of the 53 properties. No Pennsylvania installations or institutions were involved. The action, however, halted transfer by lease for a nominal rental on Cambridge, O., to the state of Ohio.

Has Own System Of Keeping Books

PHILADELPHIA.—(INS)—Some people take courses in bookkeeping—but Dr. Kazimierz Mieczkowski has originated a unique system of his own.

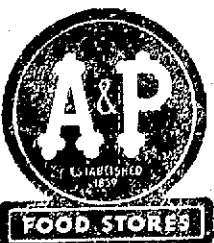

His bookkeeping methods came to light when his wife, Margaret, asked for $200 a week alimony pending the outcome of an indignity divorce action brought by her husband.

Mrs. Mieczkowski said that her husband records the amounts each patient pays by placing a star, circle, cross, or boat symbol after the name.

The wife stated that the doctor kept the romantic system of bookkeeping in a large notebook ever since they were married Christmas day, 1944, and that he explained that a "cross" meant a $5 treatment, a "star" a $5 treatment, the boat symbol, $7, and the circle or moon, $10.

EMBARRASSING TO JIMMY HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Jimmy Durante was munching on a box of raisins when he reported back for the afternoon's work in M-G-M's "This Time for Keeps."

Jimmy said: "I ain't being piggyish. I just didn't get no chance to get no lunch. I had to get my picture took for a magazine—a most embarrassing experience."

The idea was to have my picture took with a parrot sitting on my shoulder. Well, they put the parrot on my shoulder and guess what? The first thing his bird does is to take a nip at my snout.

"I says to the man: 'Take that bird off my shoulder. I ain't going to have him taking swipes at my beak.'"

"Nice Gentle Bird"
The man says: 'Oh, he's a nice gentle bird, he ain't going to bother you.'"

"There was the bird sitting there and glaring at me and the man saying to me he wasn't going to bother me."

"I said to the man: 'Take that bird off my shoulder. If you're going to photograph us, you put him on a stick in back of my shoulder so he don't get no chance to take my nose swipes at me.'"

"So that's what they did. All the time that bird was sitting there with its beak in my eye."

"I finally figured it out—that bird was jealous of me."

"It was most embarrassing."

Awaits Stock's Visit
Like any other prospective mother, Esther Williams can hardly wait for her baby to arrive. That's a little more than four months off.

The conversation started when your reporter asked Esther how much time she was going to take off from picture work after the birth of "Little Esther."

"Little Ben, you mean," said Esther, referring to her hubby, Ben Gage.

"I don't think I should come back to work for at least three months after he comes. I don't think it would be wise for me to return any sooner than that."

"The happiest moment of my life will be when the baby comes. I just want to watch him grow up every minute of the time."

Words Of Wisdom
I never complained of my condition but once, said an old man—when my feet were bare, and I had no money to buy shoes, and I met a man with no feet, and became contented.

THE PARENT PROBLEM
Praise her often for her good ways. Try to avoid showing constant anger at her faults. Don't let her get your goat.
Prompt Punishment
When you are sure she must be punished, do it promptly and effectively and have it over. Rule out all jawing. Don't wait till you and she are all worked up. When you say "No" or "Don't," say it just once. If she does not stop at once, spank her soundly or assign her to sit in a chair for 20 minutes. Pick out just a few things you will forbid, things you can check on with your own eyes. Then the punishment can always follow the offense at once and without exception.
Since she tears her clothes or marks on the walls when you do not see her, punishment hardly will work for them. Be with her always when she has a pencil or crayon. Show her how to write only on the proper thing (paper). Threatening to take away the dress she has torn is a bad way. As you train her better to handle other things with care, and with her affection in many ways, she will probably quit tearing her clothes.
Read to her a great deal. Induce the older child to do so. The more this older child will do for the younger, the happier both will be. Most of all, work on yourself not to let yourself be often vexed at that little child.
Your problem is not easy, but I know you are going to win. I am sure you are doing better than you think you are.

As you train her better to handle other things with care, and with her affection in many ways, she will probably quit tearing her clothes.
Read to her a great deal. Induce the older child to do so. The more this older child will do for the younger, the happier both will be. Most of all, work on yourself not to let yourself be often vexed at that little child.
Your problem is not easy, but I know you are going to win. I am sure you are doing better than you think you are.

Praise her often for her good ways. Try to avoid showing constant anger at her faults. Don't let her get your goat.
Prompt Punishment
When you are sure she must be punished, do it promptly and effectively and have it over. Rule out all jawing. Don't wait till you and she are all worked up. When you say "No" or "Don't," say it just once. If she does not stop at once, spank her soundly or assign her to sit in a chair for 20 minutes. Pick out just a few things you will forbid, things you can check on with your own eyes. Then the punishment can always follow the offense at once and without exception.
Since she tears her clothes or marks on the walls when you do not see her, punishment hardly will work for them. Be with her always when she has a pencil or crayon. Show her how to write only on the proper thing (paper). Threatening to take away the dress she has torn is a bad way. As you train her better to handle other things with care, and with her affection in many ways, she will probably quit tearing her clothes.

By looking over his material in camp he has a wry smile. When "Bridy" is pleased he smiles. His material is fairly heavy this year, they lack the speed that the 1945 squad had, but this will come in time as the season progresses.

Tentative First Team
Bridenbaugh has selected a tentative first team made up of the following: At ends, Cliff Rowland and Phil Richards; at tackles, Al Tate and John DiCola; at center, Ed Nelson's puzzled head by Porky Ed Oliver yesterday. The score was one up in a sizzling 36-hole quarter final.

Dodgers-Cards Start Crucial Series Sunday

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Baseball America is on tenterhooks today awaiting the opening of the crucial four-game series between the Cardinals and Dodgers in St. Louis tomorrow.

Twenty-four hours before the series, which may well decide the winner of the National league pennant, the setting is perfect with the two rivals still tied and fighting tooth and nail all the way down the stretch.

Dodgers-Cards Win
Both the Dodgers and the Cards were forced to go all the way to the ninth inning to win yesterday. In the afternoon, Brooklyn had assumed a temporary lead with a 2 to 1 triumph over Cincinnati, thanks to Kirby Higbe's pitching and a double by Stevens and Whitman's single in the ninth.

In the evening the Cards got right back on even terms with the Dodgers again when Johnny Beazley, pre-war ace who has been a powerhouse for the Cards in recent weeks, won a 2 to 1 duel from Ralph Juch of the Phils and another member of the old guard, Terry Moore, delivered a pinch single which won the game in the ninth.

Paul Erickson of the Chicago Cubs and Johnny Sain hooked up in an even more spectacular pitchers' battle, with Sain allowing only two hits and Erickson but three. In the seventh inning the Cubs bunched both their hits with two walks and an error to win 3 to 1.

Pirates Trounce Giants
Pittsburgh's Pirates trounced the New York Giants, 7 to 3, and are within one game of getting out of the league cellar.

In the American league, the New York Yankees racked up their fifth straight victory by beating the St. Louis Browns again, 4 to 1. The Yankees advanced to within 12 games of the Boston Red Sox, whose game with the White Sox was washed out.

Dizzy Trout of Detroit blanked Washington, 5 to 0, in the second game of a twilight twin bill after the Senators had taken the opener, 3 to 2.

Mel Harder, Cleveland's grand old veteran, came up with a corking game but was unfortunate enough to run up against Jesse Flores of the Athletics, who held the Indians to three hits and blanked them, 1 to 0.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 24.—Robert E. Harlow helped Walter Hagen make a million dollars in seven years—"an even million, I counted it up once"—helped him spend it, but disagreed with those parties who insist the old master would beat the modern greats.

Harlow said: "Hagen played about a dozen tournaments a year—these guys are out there whacking that ball around every day. No man that ever lived could spot these modern colgers all that tournament competition and still win."

Great Competitor
Harlow said that if you are a great competitor—and Hagen was all of that—you would be good under any conditions and Hagen certainly would not be a pushover. If he played as much as these fellows he probably would be as good as they are, but to say that the old Haig could come walking out of his favorite cocktail lounge all fuddled up by the indirect lighting and one thing and another and whip a Nelson who is fresh and fit is ridiculous.

Harlow added: "He was a terrific man, but these guys aren't mugs exactly. They take care of themselves, they practice every morning, play nearly every day, practice every afternoon, put on the hotel room rug until bedtime and some of them go out and practice in the rain in preparation for that day when they have to play in the rain. The steel-shafted clubs are better today than those old hickory handles, too."

Never Hurry Or Worry
What Harlow also might have added is that about the most practice Hagen ever needed was a brisk trot down the primrose path with an occasional respite at a wayside tavern.

What was it the old master used to say? "Never hurry, never worry and pick a few flowers on the way." All right, but in the rain in preparation for that day when they have to play in the rain. The steel-shafted clubs are better today than those old hickory handles, too."

He deserved all he would get because he spread so much joy with it. In fact, the guy should have had his own private mint or a Carnegie endowment.

Still Doing Work
And if this sounds like a sob for a has-been, the impression is wrong. He's still doing much better than all right in business at Detroit and puts in an appearance at many of the big golfing fixtures. He isn't at Portland for the National Pro championship which he won five times for a record, but if he were on hand the good people of the northwest would know about it. He still will never spend a nickel if a dollar will serve the purpose. There are people around who believe that golf was originated just to get Hagen into out-of-the-way places.

While he was traveling he made them all—Australia, the Orient and Europe. Harlow went to England with him seven times and brags about it as a feat comparable to a man climbing Mt. Everest or diving two miles into the ocean. You'd be lucky to survive one trip.

"I'm the guy that did it seven times," Harlow said, beating his chest. "I'm just not human that's all. As for that Hagen, he was the healthiest, most rugged brute that ever lived."

Think you're too old to hunt? Jack Parmenter of Sonoma County (Calif.) doesn't think so. He went out with a group of younger cronies and brought back his first buck for the 1946 deer season. His pals returned minus any venison. Parmenter is 75 years old.

The late baseball star, Tony Lazzeri, left an estate valued at approximately $50,000. The former New York Yankees player, in his will on file for probate today, left half of his estate to his widow, Mrs. Mave Lazzeri, and the remainder in trust for their 14-year-old son, David.

Fraud Charged Against Marines In P.X. 'Racket'

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24. (INS)—Two camp Pendleton Marine Corps Post Exchange officers and a civilian Friday were under indictment by a federal grand jury on charges of diverting $138,311 worth of merchandise and jewelry into civilian hands.

Taken into custody at Camp Pendleton were Maj. John S. Bleeker, former post exchange officer, and Capt. Ralph L. Robinson, assistant post exchange officer.

Being sought was Robert S. Gleason, former civilian employee and manager of the post exchange now a concessionaire at Oceanside.

Marine investigators James E. Harrington and Alden P. Houck, charged the trio conspired to obtain huge consignments of merchandise from other post exchanges being closed and diverted the goods into civilian channels without offering them for sale to camp personnel.

The trio was charged with having formed the R. S. Gleason company to distribute post exchange supplies on the civilian market.

The indictment specifies jewelry, linen, cash registers obtained from Santa Ana Army Air Base Exchange, the Wilmington Post of Exchange, Exchange, and the Naval Supply Depot in San Francisco.

Both of the officers denied any irregularity and stated they had full authority to dispose of the merchandise involved.

THIS GIRL'S AIM in life is to be a psychiatrist, not a movie star or model. She's Norma Lee Salisbury of Parkersburg, W. Va., who has been chosen "Miss West Virginia of 1946." She's going to compete for the title of "Miss America" at Atlantic City, N. J., on Sept. 1. Norma has been made official vacation hostess of her state, which may account for the gun. (International)

Advices Women Go Out West For Romance

PHILADELPHIA. (INS)—This may or may not produce a mass female exodus to the promised lands of Michigan, Ohio and northern Indiana.

A book, recently published by Dr. Clifford R. Adams, director of the marriage counseling clinic at Pennsylvania State college, declares these states are the ones offering girls the best opportunities for marriage.

There, in the heart of the automobile industry, the ladies are outnumbered by males. And their marriage chances rise in proportion to the population.

Dr. Adams says in rural communities the ration of men and women lean in favor of the women.

There are 104 men for every 100 women in farm areas. In the urban communities the ratio is about 96 men to every 100 girls.

CLOVER AND ALFALFA SEED CROP IS SHORT
Alfalfa and clover seed will be short and high priced again this fall, and all possible should be harvested.

If alfalfa shows heavy bloom and bees are working on it there is good possibility of a crop of seed, perhaps up to two bushels per acre, which would prove more profitable than harvesting the crop for hay.

Alfalfa seed can be harvested with a combine late in the fall. Harvesting the alfalfa for seed does not weaken the stand.

Home grown clover seed is adapted to local conditions and often is more superior than seed shipped in from other sections.

Recall Early Auto
Made In Johnstown

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (INS)—Ever hear of the old Leitenberger? Probably not. But it was the first car ever produced in Johnstown. It scared the natives of the city when it first appeared on the road in 1899—three years after Henry Ford produced his first automobile. It was designed and built by the late Carl W. Leitenberger, founder of the Leitenberger Machine company.

A four cylinder job, the Leitenberger had a four-horsepower engine and was steered with a stick instead of the present day wheel. Furthermore, it was equipped with a "squeeze type" air horn which was later adopted by all automobile makers. Ford's first car warned pedestrians of its oncoming with a large gong.

WEDDED BLISS

Mrs. Wimer thereupon became wife and mother in one ceremony. Wimer's daughter, Gertrude, married Matthew Hartman.
